THAT well known Tract called WEST-POINT, ſituate in the lower end of King William County, and bounded by York, Mattapony and Pamunkey Rivers, containing nearly 3000 acres.

To be minute in delineating the many and great natural advantages attached to this land, would be ſuperfluous, as ſtrangers would view it before they purchaſe; & thoſe who are acquainted with it, want no further information. It may not however be improper to ſay, that as to fertility of ſoil, benefit of navigation, and the advantage of fiſh, oyſters and wild fowl, it is not exceeded by any tract of land in Virginia. This land will be diſpoſed of by Public Sale, at Weſt Point, on Wedneſday, the firſt day of December next, in lots, of from three to four hundred acres, on the following terms, to wit: One third of the purchaſe money paid down, one third in eighteen months, and the balance in one year after the expiration of the ſaid eighteen months; and the payments to be ſecured by bond and a deed of truſt on the land, with intereſt from the day of ſale.

STATE PAPERS.

No. I.

Declaration delivered to M. Albini by count Colloredo, on the ſubject of the occupation of Paſſau, Salzbourg, and Berchtolsgarden, by Auſtria.

"When his imperial majeſty proceeded to the opening of the deputation of the empire, he hoped, by means of that meaſure, to preſerve the Germanic empire from the extremity equally prejudicial to its conſtitution as to its independence, of ſeeing the important changes in its territorial and conſtitutional relations executed by unilateral military occupations without the participation of the emperor and of the empire, a participation competent to them however, according to the treaty of Luneville and the law of nations. But his imperial majeſty had not the happineſs to attain his paternal and patriotic object.—Within the time when the projects concerning theſe changes were ſtill myſteriouſly concealed from the emperor, and from the Germanic body, military operations were executed in the northern circles. The diſpoſition made at the ſame inſtant, with the greateſt publicity in another country, in the centre of Germany, were relative to ſo great a maſs of ſtates, that not only a great part of the countries aſſured by anterior negociations to the grand duke of Tuſcany, were compriſed in them, but to replace them by other ſtates was rendered impoſſible by other arrangements. His majeſty learned at the ſame time, that conſiderable aſſemblages of Palatine troops had taken place along the Inn, and upon the frontiers of the territory of Paſſau. The prince biſhop of Paſſau appriſed him of the urgent danger to which he ſaw himſelf expoſed, and of the approaching invaſion of his reſidence and poſſeſſions with which he was threatened. He invoked the protection of his majeſty the emperor and king. His majeſty reſolved in conſequence, to prevent theſe enterpriſes, contrary to the authority and the intereſt of the imperial court, by ſending his co-commiſſioners to the diet, and plenipotentiary to the deputation of the empire at Munich, with the moſt preventive inſtructions.

"He was ordered to make the moſt friendly repreſentations againſt theſe meaſures, which gave the ſignal of general confuſion, and example of violence, and which obliged the imperial court to take energetic meaſures of precaution to ſecure for his royal highneſs the grand duke, the indemnities which had been ſolemnly promiſed to him by France and the empire. M. de Hugel was, in conſequence, authoriſed to propoſe a convention by which the two courts was to abſtain from all the occupations until the deputation of the empire had entirely terminated its deliberation. He was at the ſame time authoriſed to open negociations with the Palatine electoral court, to arrange and combine the reſpective claims of indemnity, promiſing on the part of the imperial court, the moſt ſincere and greateſt reſpect for his electoral highneſs. But all theſe repreſentations and propoſitions were thrown aſide.—The Palatine electoral court refuſed to conclude an arrangement of non-occupation even for three weeks. At the ſame moment the Palatine troops attempted, by paſſing the Auſtrian territory, to take the city of Paſſau by ſurpriſe. The court of Munich did not even chooſe to bind itſelf to deſiſt in future from ſuch meaſures. All theſe events confirmed and augmented the fears of his imperial majeſty, and, as he learned at the ſame time, that the entry of the Palatine troops into the city and biſhopric of Paſſau was to take place immediately, his majeſty could no longer abſtain to take the neceſſary precautions to occupy the city and principality of Paſſau, and to extend theſe meaſures to the neighboring territories of Salſburg and of Berchtolſgaden.

His majeſty haſtens to make known theſe events to his co-eſtates aſſembled at the diet, and principally to thoſe which make part of the deputation of the empire; adding, at the ſame time, that the moſt ſtrict orders have been given to the imperial troops in the three principalities, not to interfere in the ſmalleſt degree in the internal government of theſe ſtates, or in the collection of their revenues; his majeſty conceived himſelf juſtified by the above events to protect the indemnities of his highneſs the grand duke of Tuſcany, yet, without conceiving himſelf authoriſed to take poſſeſſion of them before the entire completion of the buſineſs of indemnities, in a manner conformable to treaties and the Germanic conſtitution."

BURLINGTON, (Ver.) October 15.

The legiſlature met in this town yeſterday. The houſe formed at 10 o'clock when a committee was appointed to ſort and count the votes for governor, lieutenant-governor, councillor, and treaſurer. The houſe adjourned at 12 o'clock for the purpoſe of hearing the election ſermon, which was preached by the Rev. Mr. Atwatch of Middlebury, and diſplayed much learning and ingenuity. The muſic, vocal and inſtrumental, was directed by Mr. Booth, in ſuch a manner as to merit the higheſt approbation.

His Excellency Iſaac Tichenor, had 7,823 votes for governor, & is re-elected.

His Hon. Iſrael Smith, 5,085. Scattering 181.

For lieutenant-governor, Hon. Paul Brigham, 7,184 and is elected. Hon. Arad Hunt, 2,249. Zebina Curtis, 262. Scattering 455.

Councillors. Samuel Safford, William Chamberlin, John Strong, Jonas Galuſha, Solomon Miller, Eliſha Allis, Noah Chittendon, John White, Beriah Loomis, Eliakim Spooner, James Witherill, Stephen Williams.

GOVERNOR'S SPEECH.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Houſe of Repreſentatives.

There cannot be a more important civil truſt than that which our conſtituents have aſſigned to us. To deſignate thoſe officers on whoſe deciſion all that belongs to life, liberty or property may depend, is a weighty and ſerious tranſaction. Inſtead of being a matter of intrigue, party or ſelfiſh policy, it requires all the calmneſs of wiſdom, all the diſintereſtedneſs of virtue. Nor could there be a more unfortunate error, than to make thoſe civil appointments, which by our conſtitution muſt be annual, a matter of private friendſhip, intereſt, party, or faction. You will meet this part of your buſineſs, gentlemen, with all the calmneſs, impartiality and attention to the public good, which the honor and intereſt of the ſtate eſſentially require.

One of the greateſt misfortunes that attend republican governments, is the progreſs and violence of party ſpirit. We need not recur to ancient hiſtory for proof. Our beloved Waſhington with all his moderation, wiſdom and prudence, was not able to repreſs this deſtructive ſpirit; we know that an ardent love for his country, and a life devoted to its ſervices with the moſt upright intentions, did not ſhield him and his meaſures from its malignant effects; it exiſted in his day, and has long progreſſed with time, and increaſed with violence till now.

In a government where the honors and emoluments of public offices are alike open to all citizens, it will be natural for many to appear as candidates for public approbation and employment; and many good effects will ariſe from a ſpirit of emulation, enterprize and ambition; let them be well directed, and under proper regulations, they will give riſe to the moſt neceſſary and uſeful public exertions. But when ambitious men become inflamed ſo as to produce a violation of the laws of virtue, the deſtruction of private characters, the propagation of falſehood and ſlander, and an eſtabliſhed and rancorous ſpirit of party, they introduce ſome of the worſt evils into civil ſociety. One part of the community becomes inflamed againſt the other different parties are ranked under different leaders; they have different views and aims, and forgetful of the public good, are moſt of all active and violent to accompliſh their own particular purpoſes. It cannot be in ſuch a ſtate of things, but that the public intereſt will be ſacrificed to private views; and the more engaged men are in ſuch purſuits, the more the public intereſt muſt ſuffer, and the public peace be endangered.

Republican Governments cannot be maintained, but by a union of the wiſe and the good. It requires the abilities and exertions of the wiſeſt and moſt virtuous in every country, to direct the public affairs, to reſtrain the vicious, to give the laws a proper direction and energy, and to keep up thoſe civil and moral inſtitutions, on which the exiſtence and ſafety of civil ſociety eſſentially depend. Thoſe therefore, who, from a ſpirit of party or perſonal aggrandizement, labor to divide and influence one part of the community againſt the other, whatever motives and principles they may avow, are the greateſt enemies, to our Republican Conſtitutions and forms of government,

A remedy for theſe evils, ſo pernicious to ſociety, is not within the reach of Legiſlative acts—it is only on the virtue and correct information of the great body of the people, that we can rely to ſtop their progreſs, or to do away their fatal effects; and when aided by the precepts and examples of virtuous Repreſentatives and upright magiſtrates, will I preſume be effectual.

It is not barely from the Conſtitution, and form of government adopted by this ſtate, that our ſafety is derived—connected with the other ſtates by the Federal Conſtitution, the intereſt and ſafety of each is involved in preſerving the union of the whole.

By a late act of Congreſs is has become our duty to make new arrangements reſpecting the choice of Repreſentatives; & it is of the moſt ſerious importance, that in all our acts reſpecting the general government, we diſcover the moſt anxious ſolicitude to preſerve and ſtrengthen the union, and to ſupport the Conſtitution & Government of the United States; If under any pretence or violence of parties, the Federal Conſtitution ſhould be deſtroyed, perverted, or eſſentially altered, we may diſcover our error, and ruin, at the ſame diaſtrous period.

In the view of humanity, it muſt be a matter of joy, that peace in Europe, has put an end to the effuſion of human blood while we rejoice in the event we feel moſt ſenſibly that the produce of our Agriculture is not a little connected with Commerce. In all agricultural ſtates, like that of Vermont, it is the commerce of the maritime ſtates that gives a value to that part of our productions, which are not wanted for our conſumption, and unleſs the latter be protected by the energies of government, the former cannot be purſued to any conſiderable extent with advantage to the laborer.

In a free ſtate, a militia well equipped and diſciplined has ever been conſidered as the great and ſure baſis of its Independence. Impreſſed with this truth, our ſiſter ſtates have made the greateſt governmental exertions to cheriſh & invite their citizens to practice the arts of war in time of peace, that they may know how to defend their country in the hour of danger. In ſome ſtates they have furniſhed the militia with fire arms at public expence, and in almoſt all with field artillery. I have frequently made the ſituation of our militia the ſubject of unſucceſsful communication, and can only hope from the patriotiſm of the preſent legiſlature, that the claims of this brave and meritorious part of our fellow-citizens will be fully anſwered; eſpecially as the late peace has probably brought the price of military articles within that rule of economy which ought to regulate public expenditure.

I cannot forbear to mention with high ſatisfaction that our ſchools and colleges are aſſuming a very reſpectable appearance of utility and reputation. It is on the progreſs and influence of education, knowledge, virtue and religion, that all orders of men will receive the moſt ſubſtantial benefits that can accrue either to individuals, or to ſocieties.

If neceſſary in purſuance of the duties of office, I ſhall recommend for your conſideration, any other buſineſs by particular meſſage, I ſincerely wiſh you an agreeable ſeſſion, and firmly hope that with temperance and wiſdom becoming the aſſembled fathers of the people, you will conduct for their beſt intereſts.

ISAAC TICHENOR.

LEXINGTON, October 26.

IMPORTANT.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of information and reſpectability at Natchez, to his correſpondent in this town, dated 17th September.

"I cannot now add more than that the Port of New-Orleans is ſhut, and that you ſhall hear more from me ſhortly."

The EPISTLE from the Yearly Meeting, held in London, by adjournment, from the 19th to the 28th of the fifth month, 1802 inclusive:

To the Quarterly and Monthly Meetings of Friends in Great-Britain, Ireland and elſewhere.

"Dear Friends—We are ſenſible that unleſs the Lord bleſs the labors of the Church, its attempts to edify and conſole you muſt be in vain: but on examining into the preſent ſtate of our religious ſociety, we apprehend we have felt a warmth which warrants the continued ſalutation of our love; and we have had our minds directed to divers ſubjects, reſpecting which we deem that counſel is expedient. Accept therefore, Friends, our ſalutation; it is that of brethren. Receive we beſeech you, the counſel we may be enabled to impart: its object is your increaſe in Chriſt, your eſtabliſhment in righteouſneſs, your preſent well-being, your eternal ſalvation.

"This meeting has not been quite ſo large as in former years; nor have the caſes which have claimed our attention been ſo numerous; but the ſtrength ariſing from the labors of many minds united in the ſame cauſe, has been in a good degree experienced.

"The amount of ſufferings this year is upwards of 9,500l. chiefly for tithes, prieſts' demands and thoſe called church rates, and ſome demands of a military nature. One friend was alſo impriſoned for a ſhort time on account of tithes.

"We have received an epiſtle from Ireland, and epiſtles from all the yearly Meetings of Friends in North America; by which we learn, that our brethren in thoſe countries not only are exerciſed in various concerns peculiar to their own ſituations, but in common with us, remain engaged to enquire into the ſpiritual welfare of the members, to breathe for the removal of every thing that tends to defile, and to rejoice at the ſigns, which they obſerve, of dedication of the Lord's cauſe.

"Since our laſt yearly meeting two ſignal benefits have been permitted to our native land: the ſtop lately put to the effuſion of human blood, and the plentiful increaſe of ſuſtenance, afforded by means of the laſt year's harveſt, at a time when famine ſeemed approaching, and when want was ſeverely felt by the poorer claſſes of the community at large. We doubt not that there yet remain many who will long feel the conſequences of ſuch deep diſtreſs; and we believe that we ſhould acceptably ſhew our gratitude to the common Parent and bountiful Father of mankind, if we yet ſought out and aſſiſted ſuch as the calamities of preceeding ſeaſons have bereaved of their neceſſary comforts: more eſpecially among the aged and infirm. On an occaſion, too, of ſuch general ſatisfaction, as the return of peace to this nation, it peculiarly behoves us, as we are known to have a teſtimony againſt thoſe modes of rejoicing, even for peace itſelf which are generally attended with profuſion and tumult, to evince that we really rejoice at the proſperity of our country, by doing good, according to our ability, to all.

"But, dear friends, in time of outward proſperity, there are ſnares to be avoided, as well as duties to be fulfilled. One of theſe ſnares ſeems to be a too eager, & therefore unlawful purſuit of lawful things.—Such a purſuit prevents the mind from riſing in living aſpiration to God, the giver of every good and perfect gift; indiſpoſes it for duly aſſembling with his devoted ſervants to wait upon him, and worſhip him; and cauſes "the volume of the book" of ſacred Scripture, that record of truth which was written aforetime for our inſtruction to be but ſeldom peruſed. Such a purſuit alſo, if general, ſpreads devaſtation over religious ſociety.——But, friends, we entreat you, "ſeek ye firſt the kingdom of God, and his righteouſneſs; and all theſe things," ſaid our bleſſed redeemer ſpeaking of neceſſary things, "ſhall be added unto you." Then would your aſſembling together be ſeaſons of heavenly conſolation; your hearts would be enlarged in the goſpel love that knows no bounds to its deſire of human happineſs; ye would covet that others might partake with you of the enriching joy; and ye would be careful that not any trifling impediment prevented the due attendance of your own families. "Come," would ye ſay by your example, if not in words, "Come and let us go up to the mountains of the Lord, and to the houſe of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths." "Come and let us join ourſelves to the Lord in a perpetual covenant that ſhall not be forgotten."

"Now, dear friends, who ſtand in the tender relation, and in the awful and important ſtation of parents, ſuch of you more particularly as have bought the truth let us again remind you of the danger of indulging your inexpenieaced offspring in worldly liberties, from which the truth reſtrains you. Let not any falſe and ſpecious reaſoning prevail on you to ſuppoſe, that it will be ſufficiently ſoon for their wills to be ſubjected, when they ſhall have obtained maturity of judgment. Then, alas! the practice of ſelf-gratification may be ſo confirmed, that the way of ſelf denial may ſeem to them much narrower than it really is; and you will have contributed to increaſe the difficulties of thoſe whom it was your indiſpenſable duty to protect, to guard from all danger, and to train up in the way they ſhould go. It is ſtill a precept ſanctioned by reaſon and by revelation, "train up a child in the way ſhe ſhould go;" and this was imputed to Abraham, as a thing well pleaſing to the Almighty. "For I know him, ſaid the Lord, "that he will command his children and his houſehold after, and they ſhall keep the way of the Lord."

"And, beloved young friends, ſubmit, we beſeech you, with readineſs to the reſtraints of your religious parents. As you accuſtom yourſelves to bend in due ſubjection to the power of truth in your own hearts, ſuch reſtraint will become leſs irkſome, as alſo it will be leſs neceſſary.—Many of you, we are perſuaded, are no ſtrangers to the voice of wiſdom ſpeaking in ſecret, and ſaying, when you are diſpoſed to turn to the right or to the left hand, "this is the way walk ye in it." Many inconveniences, evils and occaſions for ſorrow of heart, may be avoided by hearing and conſulting the holy witneſs in yourſelves. It will ſometimes gently arreſt you in the proſecution of your purpoſe when you may not diſtinctly ſee the cauſe. But it is wiſer than we, proceeding from that pure intelligence to which all things and all events are known. O! then, mind its ſecret checks: and we are at this time particularly engaged to recommend you to conſult the witneſs, ere you venture upon the peruſal of the ſpecious publications with which this age abounds. In this way, dear children, keep your hearts "with all diligence," leſt ye enter into temptation.

"And for you, whatever be your age or ſtation, who have the burthen of the cauſe reſting as on your ſhoulders, in this exerciſing day, our deſires are ſtrong, that you may be preſerved in humility and patience, and ſteadily perſevere in the path of duty. Unto you it is given in the behalf of Chriſt, not only to believe on him, but alſo to ſuffer for his ſake." Thus, dear friends, as you perſevere, having your truſt and your dependence on the invincible, though ſometimes, inviſible, arm of Almighty power, the Lord will become your ſhield, and your exceeding great reward."

From the Frederick Town Herald.

Mr. THOMPSON,

I have lately obſerved an extract from a London paper, publiſhed in ſome of the papers of the United States, ſtating that:

"The prefect of police at Paris has publiſhed his report relative to the application of the ſulphurated hydrogene gas, to medical purpoſes. The reſult is, that the experiment is extremely dangerous, and that its uſe ought to be entirely abolished."

We cannot help contradicting the report alluded to; as the good effects of the application of ſulphurated hydrogene gas to medical purpoſes, are fully atteſted in the recovery of many valetudinarians, who have drank medical waters, ſtrongly impregnated with it. The ſulphur ſprings, about eight miles from Martinſburg, in Berkely county, Virginia, contain no other mineral property, except that gas and a quantity of ſulphur vivum in a ſtate of ſolution, and ſeveral caſes might be here adduced, in which this ſpring water has been uſed, not only with our detriment, but evident advantage to health. Many other medical ſprings in the United United States are known to hold the ſulphurated hydrogene gas in combination with other chemical qualities; it would be abſurd to doubt the benefits, which patients have derived from the uſe of them.

Extract of a letter from a reſpectable American at Havre, to a commercial houſe in New-York, dated Sept. 4, 1802.

"The gentleman who was Conſul here has reſigned, or in other words has given a power to Mr. Wm. Deblois to act, who now holds the office, and is obliged to Mr. Henry Preble for his aſſiſtance, not knowing the French language himſelf. Mr. D. expects the appointment through T. Paine, whom Mr. D. aſſiſted in getting a paſſage, as moſt of the American maſters refuſed taking him on board. Paine has promiſed the appointment, expecting his influence will induce the Preſident to grant it to Mr. D."

Extract of a letter from Trenton.

"The Glouceſter election has been canvaſſed before the committee of elections. They unanimouſly and immediately determined to report, that there is no cauſe of complaint. 2 Democrats and 3 Federaliſts on the committee.

"It is a curious circumſtance, that the Democrats of Glouceſter produced a deaf man to prove a fact which depended entirely on an accurate ſenſe of hearing.

"I think we ſhall have no governor this year."

We underſtand that the late governor Bloomfield of New Jerſey has reſigned his ſeat to John Lambert, Preſident of Council, who is to execute the office of governor until an appointment takes place.

It is doubted by ſome whether the Preſident of Council has a right to act when no governor is appointed, it being a caſe not provided for by the conſtitution.

(Gaz. U. S.)

It is ſaid on good authority, that our Miniſter at Paris intends returning home in the Spring—that he has communicated his wiſhes on this ſubject to our government, preferring the life of an American Farmer to that of Miniſter to the greateſt Potentate in Europe. He is ſpoken of by ſome as the probable ſucceſſor of Mr. KING, at the Court of London—but this is not very likely. If he finds his ſituation irkſome from his politics in the Republic of France, it can hardly be leſs ſo in the Kingdom of Great Britain.

(N. Y. Com. Adv.)

OFFICIAL,

His Catholic Majeſty's Conſul General, Chevalier de Feranda, received, a few days ago, official information from the Governor of St. Auguſtine, that the ports in that province are cloſed againſt all neutral veſſels—at the ſame time permitting the citizens of the United States to trade in Spaniſh bottoms, agreeable to the Royal Order of the 9th June, 1793.

In the Jacobinical papers throughout the United States, the moſt virulent abuſe is heaped on Mr. Burr, and among the foremoſt of the calumniators of that gentleman, are plainly to be diſtinguiſhed, the myrmydons of the immaculate Jefferſon. But while they attempt to excite the keeneſt reſentment in the public mind againſt Mr. Burr, for an alledged duplicity exerciſed by him againſt Mr. Jefferſon they appear to have forgotten that they were paſſing the ſevereſt ſentence of condemnation on their own idol.

Let it be aſked, who, in the moſt infamous manner endeavored to defame the American character in Europe?* The anſwer will be JEFFERSON. If it be required who, with the hand of a baſe aſſaſſin, attempted to ſtab the reputation of the great Father of his country, the immortal Waſhingington? The name of JEFFERSON again occurs. And if it be demanded, who hired the moſt profligate outlaws of foreign countries to plunge the political poinard into the well-earned fame of John Adams? Still the ſame, the deteſtable name of JEFFERSON preſents itſelf.

But ſuppoſing Mr. Burr does hold a competition with the runaway governor† of 1780—where was the harm, nay, the impropriety of it? Had he not as many of the ſuffrages of the electors as Jefferſon? This even Duane, Denniſton, or Cheetham dare not deny. If facts come properly to light, however, it will ſoon riſe in judgment againſt him, that he is himſelf the director behind the ſcenes, of theſe political automatons.

Nero affected humanity, and thou, even thou, Jefferſon affecteſt virtue—but what the name of Nero was to Rome, will thine be to thy Country, when once the unerring hand of time ſhall place thy actions, in their proper point of view, and that your country may be ſpeedily and happily relieved from the evils of your public agency is the ardent wiſh, and fervent prayer of every friend to the fame and principles of,

WASHINGTON.

OHIO COMPANY,

For the improvement of the Miſſiſippi trade.

A number of inhabitants of the weſtern parts of Virginia and Pennſylvania, met on the 29th ult. at Pittſburgh, for the purpoſe of forming a company for the exportation of the produce and commodities of that country, by the channel of the Miſſiſippi. To overcome the difficulties and embarraſsments attending the trade of theſe interior ſettlements, which render prices precarious, & conſequently relax induſtry, and which are too formidable to be any longer encountered by the limited credit and capital of individuals; the citizens of this portion of our extenſive empire have determined to form an aſſociation under the name of the Ohio Company, with a capital, as nearly as poſſibly competent, for the purchaſe and exportation, to the beſt market, of the commodities of their country, at the joint riſk and for the joint benefit of the ſubſcribers, in ſhares of one hundred dollars each. Subſcriptions are to be opened, in various places deſignated, on the firſt of November next, and to continue open one month. Every ſubſcriber to pay one dollar at the time of ſubſcribing, with future payment, at ſuch time & place as the directors ſhall hereafter appoint, one fifth in caſh, and the remaining four fifths in produce. The company is to be under the management of a preſident and twelve directors. Shares to be transferable and an act of incorporation to be ſolicited from the legiſlature of Pennſylvania.

Five Dollars Reward.

STRAYED from Gill's paſture, near Alexandria, two or three weeks ſince, a handſome SORREL COLT, 3 years old, 13 or 14 hands high, with a ſwitch tail, and has never been ſhod. The above Reward will be paid to any perſon that will deliver him to me in Alexandria, and reaſonable charges.

The Executors of the late Gen. Geo. Washington, offer for sale, the following

TRACTS OF LAND, viz.

A tract in Loudoun county on Difficult Run, containing 300 acres. The soil well adapted for farming and a considerable proportion of it might easily be improved into meadow. There is a valuable mill-seat on the premises. It lies on the great road from the City of Washington, Alexandria and George Town to Leesburgh and Winchester, nineteen miles from Alexandria, less from the City and George Town and not more than three from the Great Falls of Potomac.

One tract containing 2,481 acres lying in the counties of Loudoun and Fauquier, called Ashby's Bent. The soil is that which is said to be most favorable to Plaster of Paris, well watered by several never failing streams issuing from the mountain—part of this land is cleared and tenanted for lives.

One tract lying part in each of the above counties, containing 885 acres. Chatten's run passes through this tract and gives several valuable mill-seats. The soil is similar to the above tract and equally favorable to Plaster of Paris.

A tract on the South Fork of Bullskin, containing 1600 acres—One also, Head of Evans's Mill, containing 453 acres, and one on Wormley's line, containing 183 acres. These several tracts are in Jefferson (late Berkeley county)—the soil very similar in quality, and particularly adapted to the culture of Tobacco, Hemp, Wheat and Indian Corn, situated twelve miles from Harper's Ferry.

One tract containing 571 acres in Frederick county, this land is in the vicinity of the last mentioned tracts and equally valuable.

One tract in Hampshire county containing 240 acres—this tract, tho' small is extremely valuable. It lies on Potomac river, about 12 miles above the town of Bath (or Warm Springs) and is in the shape of a horse-shoe, the river running almost round it; two hundred acres of it are rich low grounds, with a great abundance of the largest Walnut and other trees, which with the produce of the soil, might (by means of the improved navigation of the Potomac) be brought to a shipping port with more ease and at a smaller expense, than that which is transported only 30 miles by land.

One third part of 1119 acres in Nansemond county near Suffolk, lying on the road from Suffolk to Norfolk and on Nansemond river—this land is considered extremely valuable by those who are acquainted with it.

One tract in Charles county, Maryland, containing 600 acres—it is very level and lies near the river Potomac.

One tract in Montgomery county, Maryland, containing 519 acres—This land lies about 30 miles above the City of Washington, not far from Kettoctan and is good farming land.

One tract in Pennsylvania, containing 234 acres—This land affords an exceeding good stand on Braddock's road from Fort Cumberland to Pittsburg, and a large quantity of natural meadow fit for the scythe. It is distinguished by the appellation of the Great Meadows, where the first action with the French, in the year 1754, was fought.

One other tract on the Mohawk river, State of New-York, containing 1000 acres.

In North West Territory.

Three tracts lying on Little Miami, containing 3051 acres.

In Kentucky. On Rough Creek, one tract containing 3000 acres; ditto adjoining 2000 acres. Indisputable titles can be given for the above lands.

Lots in the City of Washington.

Two improved lots near the Capitol square 634. The improvements are, on each an elegant three story brick house.

Four other unimproved lots on the Eastern Branch, No. 5, 12, 13 and 14, in square 667. These lots are advantageously situated on the water.

ALEXANDRIA.

A few valuable lots in Alexandria, corner of Pitt and Prince-streets, three or four of which are let on ground rent at 3 dollars per foot.

WINCHESTER.

One lot in Town of half an acre, adjoining Doctor Makay's, enclosed with a good post and rail fence, and a number in the commons of about six acres.

Bath, or Warm Springs.

Two well situated lots, on one of them has small building large enough to accommodate one family.

The terms of sale will be made known by application to either of the subscribers.
